Pushing the boat out

This slick looking thing is the Sunborn Gibraltar (tel: 00 358 600 555 100): a floating five-star hotel with bags of event space. The standout spaces include a double-height ballroom and top-deck restaurant – complete with a retractable roof. Permanently moored at the peninsula's Ocean Village marina, the vessel is scheduled to open early next year. Keep your eyes out for the upcoming London version too.

WATERFRONT WORKS

Pinetree Art Museum Miami (tel: 00 1 786 345 0511) opens at the beginning of December and will offer spaces for meetings, receptions and weddings. Groups can add a little culture by booking the galleries in the waterfront Herzog & de Meuron building for an exclusive viewing.

Luxury hotel group the Dorchester Collection has bought the 121-bedroom, 19th-century Le Meridien Hotel Eden (tel: 00 39 06 478 121) in Rome

Old chum

Once a world-renowned nightclub, now a theatre, New York's Studio 54 (tel: 00 1 212 793 9991) is getting up for a run of musical Cabaret – starring Michelle Williams and Alan Cumming, no less – next March. On non-performance days the 1,000-seat venue is open for private hire, offering a catering area and VIP lounge.

COVER UP

Overlooking one of Amsterdam's most famous canals, the five-star Dylan hotel (tel: 00 31 20 530 2001) is opening its covered Winter Garden at the end of October. Found in the middle of the venue, the included garden is cool space for events, with touches of old Amsterdam in the design. The hotel also has its own fleet of bikes for groups to hire.
